

Let yourself go!

Music: The essential ingredient for a good time.

Everyone's dressed to the nines and moving in a trance, to a beat that's both enchanting and soothing as it is loud. It's a familiar scene night after night – people everywhere grooving to House music. Defined by its energetic beats, loops, pop synthesizer sounds and drum rolls, House music draws inspiration from jazz, rap, soul and reggae amongst others.

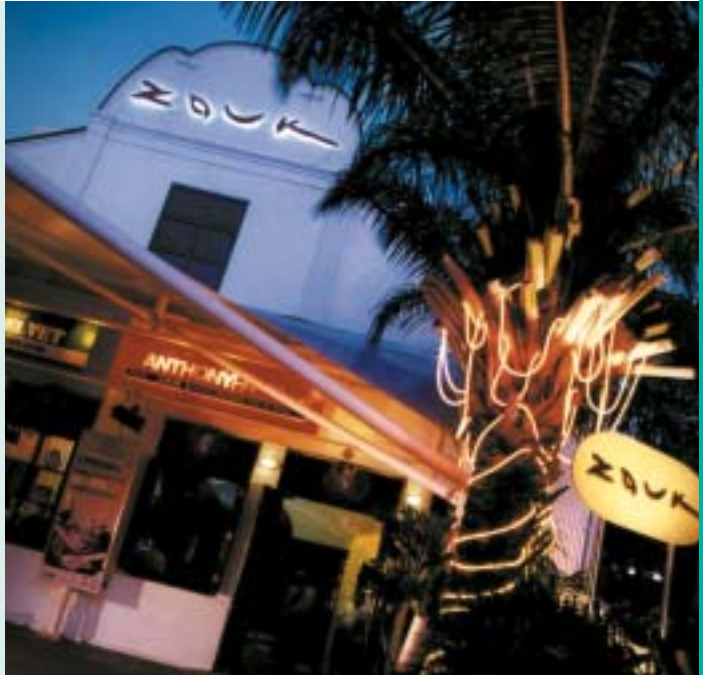

From its birth in a now defunct club called Warehouse (from where it gets its moniker), House music is a style that's been adopted and reinvented in discos around the world. And like fusion cuisine, it is easy take to this eclectic style of music with its strange mix of familiar tunes and infectious rhythm. What you make with it is totally up to you. Whether you feel like moving your hands up in the air or jumping around, let your hair down and have fun.

Did you know...?

Your choice of drink says a lot about you. Beer drinkers are often thought of as casual and down to earth whilst those carrying a glass of wine are often conservative and sophisticated. Bottled spritzer drinks suggest that you're confident of being trendy whilst cocktails can send out different signals based on their dressings. Leave the umbrella in the cocktail if you want others to know that you're easygoing and carefree, or take it out if you want to be seen as mature and assertive.
